Tw// Discussion of grooming, misgendering

Before reading my statement, I strongly suggest reading csyre's statement !!

Hi. My name is Kaiya, also known as Kietty. This is my experience with Skeppy who I believe attempted to form an inappropriate relationship with me between late 2022 and early 2023 when I was 16 and he was 22-23. This document contains my own perceived experience with him and my own opinions on said experience. I apologise if there's a lot of unnecessary information or if portions go on for too long. I want to paint the full picture so please bear with me. I would also like to note that I had my age and pronouns, 16 and they/them, in my discord bio at the time. Before I start, I will say that nothing explicitly illegal happened. We were never in a relationship. This kind of conduct between fans is completely unacceptable though, especially with a minor.

I have been a Skeppy fan since 2019, he was one of my favourite youtubers for a long time. I played on Skeppy's Minecraft server, InvadedLands a lot and had even had small interactions with him. We properly met on MCC Island, where (me being an annoying fan) spam invited him to a party. To my surprise, he accepted and told me he remembered me from his server. We then moved to Hypixel and we went to his housing, gave me build permissions and told me to build something cool. I built a little parkour course with his and BadBoyHalo's heads (again, annoying fan trying to impress their favourite youtuber.) After that, we added each other on discord and then he left. This was my first proper interaction with Skeppy.

After that, I played Hypixel and InvadedLands with him a lot. He gave me lots of special attention. At the time, I thought this was really cool. But thanks to hindsight and reading csyre's statement, I now believe there was something malicious going on. He built my skin's head next to his head that I built in his housing (which has since been removed but csyre can verify it was there). He would buy me things, including items on his server, a year of mvp++ on hypixel and 2 of his own lunar cosmetics. Looking back now, these were MAJOR read flags. He would constantly misgender me and call me a girl (my pronouns are they/them and he knew that) and would sometimes call me pretty randomly. In a now deleted event video which i believe was 16 corners. I was revived 3 different times which was never brought up in the video other than Skeppy asking to revive 2 people but only showing one person being revived (which wasnt me.) I haven't been able to find an archive of this video but its title was something like “RIGGED 16 CORNERS EVENT”

How we stopped talking completely changed me and how I present myself online. It also destroyed my self confidence. He asked to play Hypixel, and this time he wanted to voice call. An interesting fact about me is that I don't talk on voice calls. One of the reasons I dont talk is because I'm insecure about my voice because it's kinda deep. I didn't think he'd mind though so I thought it would be good to talk for once. I pick up and say hello. He says hi, but doesnt say much after that. We played a few games while I desperately tried to get him to say anything other than a one word response. Then he just gets off, leaves the call and doesn't talk to me ever again. That kinda broke me. A 16 year old already insecure about their own voice having someone they looked up to stop talking to them because of their voice. It hurts. A lot.

After that happened I kinda connected the dots in my head. I believe he saw me as a girl and was trying to form a relationship with me despite me being 16 and him being 22. Thankfully he stopped, at the cost of my self esteem and confidence. I remember people telling me it was weird the amount of attention he was giving me and that I should be careful around him. But I never thought he would do anything like this. Based of the information I have been told, I now believe that he would do something like this and I believe he HAS done something like this. After reading csyre’s statement, its obvious this man is a lying, manipulative asshole. I believe with both mine and csyre’s statements, it shows a pattern of degeneracy that needs to be stopped. To be a little more personal, I am constantly haunted by the thought of what my life might be if I never met him. Or if I stopped playing with him once the red flags started. Or if I never picked up that discord call. Skeppy completely messed me up and I wish I never met him. There may even be other fans who have been impacted by him in the same way from what I’ve heard. If you feel confident and brave enough PLEASE come forward and talk about your experience either publicly or anonymously. You will be supported and you deserve to be heard.

Thank you for taking the time to read this. And thank you csyre for reaching out. I can't even imagine what it must’ve been like being together with that man so please give her as much support as you can. I would also like to thank my friends for supporting me and the people back then who had a feeling something was wrong. I am willing to answer any questions or clarify anything if needed.
